Our Town

Let's get that gym.

Chances for improved health facilities for Cameron are encouraged by the efforts of the city council to sell the disposal plant bonds. Mayor Davis has a number of bond buyers who are offering to purchase these securities and it is likely that 1924 will see this valuable addition to public service.

Stock and agricultural interests of Milam county are looking to the Chamber of Commerce for an expression of their endeavors through the medium of a livestock show and fair. The movement has found universal approval and it is confidently expected that the plans now under way will achieve a creditable exhibition.

Tuesday at the Lions Club L. Van Perkins, athletic instructor at the Yoe High school made an appeal for better support of high school athletics. President Jones of the University Interscholastic League spoke to the members in encouragement of this worthy enterprise. At this time the school is endeavoring to establish a gymnasium. Certainly this project merits the support of the people of Cameron. The value of athletics in the school cannot be overestimated for physical education has developed to be one of the strongest factors in the public free school system of the country.

"Our Town" editor believes a golf course for Cameron would be a distinct advantage and now that there appears to be considerable interest in a proposed golf course and country club we suggest attention be given this matter by the chamber of commerce and the Lions Club as well as the association of individuals who were most interested in the project. Many small towns in Texas are finding their way to civic enterprise of this kind because of increased recreational demands. Such an enterprise as this would not only prove beneficial to Cameron but would be a decided advantage to tourists and visitors to the city. Why not get together and get a golf course. Our civic interests must be advanced as the material interests of the city advance and with the improvement of the streets, better school buildings and increased trade sources Cameron is faced with a number of civic needs and among them we find many advantages in a golf course and country club.

Chairman Graves of the street committee in the city council has asked for the co-operation of the citizens in effecting better drainage conditions in Cameron by stopping the placing of trash in drains along property lines. Considerable difficulty has always obtained here because of the failure of the citizens to properly co-operate with the city. Nothing is quite so essential to the public health as proper drainage and the appeal of the street commissioner is both timely and wise. Let all the people co-operate in this matter and improve health conditions in the city.

School bonds in the sum of $100,000 have been sold and are now bearing interest from February 20 of this year and it will be necessary for the council to make a tax levy to retire these bonds. So far as we can learn, however, the school board has adopted no definite plans for the school building program. It was this indefinite situation that caused so long a delay and expense in the sale of the bonds and finally with a divided opinion the council sold only a part of the issue. It now seems practically certain that the city will get no new school buildings. Certainly no hopes are now had for a junior high school and with such varying opinions as to the grammar school situation little hopes are held out for a new grammar school building. If repairs are made on the old building and no new buildings are erected then sufficient funds will be available for all purposes and much to spare. It seems that the problem before the board at this time is to devise means to spend the money that the bonds have al-

T. S. HENDERSON WILL AID STADIUM CAMPAIGN

HOPE TO BUILD BY THANKSGIVING OF THIS YEAR EXPRESSED AT AUSTIN.

Tom S. Henderson, Jr., of Cameron has accepted the position of chairman of the Texas Memorial Stadium Campaign committee in his home city, and has started active work in the campaign which will be carried on there to finish raising funds for the South's first stadium, which is in the process of construction at the University of Texas, now.

Members of the committee in charge of the Stadium drive are securing committees in the representative cities of Texas, these committees being composed, in the main, of ex-students of the University, who have manifested interest in the welfare of Varsity, and who have shown willingness to work for their alma mater.

The state-wide drive is being conducted to complete a fund of $500,000, the original amount of the drive, but only $217,000 will have to be raised, as students of the University and Austin residents have raised $283,000 in campaigns held in Austin. With this amount a stadium with a seating capacity of 60,000 is being constructed at the University with a view to increasing statewide interest in athletics and of giving Texas her rightful place in athletics of the nation.

The Texas Memorial Stadium is serving many purposes, but none more important than that of commemorating the deeds of Texas men and women who took part in the World War, according to the directors. The Stadium will be the state's first big monument to those who gave their lives, and the first tribute of the entire Lone Star State to the memory of deeds of valor performed in defense of an ideal.

The campaign among ex-students and citizens of the state in general is being carried on at the present time to complete the stadium fund.

HOSPITAL GRADUATION EXERCISES ON MAY 24

FIVE NURSES WILL GRADUATE FROM THE HOSPITAL THIS YEAR.

The Cameron Hospital has sent out announcements of the forthcoming Commencement exercises for the graduation of five nurses on Wednesday May 24, 1924.

The nurses to receive diplomas from this institution are Lynn Ryan, Ruby Millard, Jeffie Wilburn, Elizabeth Kasberg and Marie Lothschuetz. The management of the hospital extends an invitation to the public to attend the commencement exercises. A large number of friends and patrons of the hospital have expressed a desire to attend and the invitation is extended to all of them.

Each year the hospital graduates a number of nurses and the occasion is always one of interest to the people, especially among the patrons of the hospital.

The exercises will be held at the hospital on Wednesday May 24, 1924. An appropriate and interesting program will be arranged for the occasion.

ready been sold. If the original plans had been pursued no money would have been available for the negro school building which all agree should be erected. The question of better facilities for the negro school has been a contention on which all have agreed and we believe plans should be included for this work. Nothing would be better at this time than for board to agree and announce some definite plan of building.

also found a cotton jumper and a piece of cheese and these were the only clues had in the case and from these the capture was evolved.

The piece of cheese on examination was found to contain finger prints and photographs were made and with the arrests of the Mexicans in San Marcos the long chase was ended and the finger prints were identification evidence.

The men under arrest are Mariano Garcia and Pablo Lerma have confessed to the burglary, according to Mr. Rogers.

The finger print as a crime detector is becoming more and more valuable to enforcement officers over the country.

Finger prints on a piece of cheese have led to the capture of two Mexicans charged with robbery of the Scarbrough & Hicks store in Rockdale last winter when $3,000 worth of goods was taken from the store.

The story reads like romance and adventure. Sheriff Drue S. Rogers returned Monday from San Marcos where he went to see the prisoners now in the Hays county jail and charged with burglary in that county. There he obtained a confession from these men in which they admit having stolen the goods.

Shortly after the robbery Sheriff Rogers and Deputy N. O. Kennedy found some of the goods in the city dump grounds at Rockdale. They

COMMERCIAL CLUB WILL PROMOTE FAIR IN CITY

LIVE STOCK & POULTRY SHOW GIVEN O. K. AT MONDAY NIGHT'S SESSION.

The commercial club will sponsor a livestock and poultry show and a fair in Cameron this fall, probably the latter part of August or first part of September.

Dr. G. E. Sutton, city sanitary officer, who was recently made chairman of the agricultural committee, will have charge of the plans for the fair. A good agricultural exhibit is expected.

Miss Gladys Henry, home demonstration agent, outlined for the club the proposed county meeting of club girls here in July. The club voted its full co-operation. Miss Henry will ascertain what other communities in the county will do in the way of co-operation and will report back to the club.

The July gathering will be an exhibit of the work done by Miss Henry and the girls of the county in home canning, domestic science and other endeavors.

Mr. and Mrs. Fontaine Flinn has returned to their home in Robstown after a two weeks visit in Cameron.

MAJ. F. B. EBBERT

Associate General Counsel for the Anti-Saloon League of America.

PROHIBITION SPEAKER BAPTIST CHURCH SUNDAY

MAJ. F. B. EBBERT OF LOS ANGELES WILL SPEAK TO CONGREGATION HERE.

Maj. F. B. Ebbert, associate counsel for the Anti-Saloon League of America will address the congregation at the Baptist church Sunday morning May 18 at 11 o'clock.

O. L. Kidd will preside at the meeting.

Maj. Ebbert will speak to the congregation in the absence of Rev. E. S. Hutcherson, pastor of the church who is in Atlanta attending the session of the Southern Baptist Convention.

The engagement to have Maj. Ebbert speak at the morning hour was made several weeks ago.

The church will prepare to take care of a large crowd on Sunday for it is anticipated that a large number from all over the city and county will want to hear the message brought by this able speaker and prohibition leader.

The detail of his address is not known but it is thought the fight will be one in conjunction with the efforts by the wets to liberalize the prohibition laws.

PRESBYTERIAN AUXILIARY.

The Presbyterian Auxiliary met at the church Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. After a business session with Mrs. Henry Sapp, the president presiding, the ladies listened to an address by Dr. Bruno Schlotter, a lay worker in the Congo Belge Mission, who with his wife, is at home on a furlough, and for the day, was a guest of his sister, Mrs. Ernest Egbert. Dr. Schlotter's address was interesting and instructive, and deepened the interest in this most promising field.

The Auxiliary has perfected plans for a social meeting which will be held next Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Idella Green, and to which all the ladies of the church are invited.

T. W. DAVIDSON TO SPEAK IN CAMERON ON MAY 26

CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR WILL ADDRESS DEMOCRATS OF MILAM COUNTY.

Announcement has been received by the Herald from the campaign headquarters of T. W. Davidson that he will speak in Cameron on Monday afternoon at 2:30 May 26.

It is understood that the friends of the Lieutenant Governor will make preparation for a very large reception for the candidate on that date. T. S. Henderson is the district chairman for the Davidson campaign in this section and when the Marshall man announced his candidacy, Mr. Henderson introduced him at Mrs. Hall.

Mr. Davidson on account of his fight against the Ku Klux Klan is conceded here to be the leading anti-Klan candidate for the office although Lynch Davidson in 1921 came out against the Klan the only public official in Texas at that time to declare against the organization. He was then lieutenant governor.

Considerable criticism has also developed because of the endorsement of the Farm Labor Union of T. W. Davidson for Governor, the socialistic platform of the organization being especially objected to.

However, Mr. Davidson is strong in this county, on account of his anti-klan stand and will have a large number of Democrats to hear him.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH.

The preaching done by the Rev. King Vivian during the revival at the Methodist church has been of great value in the strengthening of the spiritual life of the church, and all who heard him. Spiritual values are often invisible, but are often manifested in a concrete way.

On the closing day of the meeting seven were received into the church, thirty persons signed cards to become scriptural, book-keeping titheers, and there were one hundred and fifty who signed cards thereby acknowledging a personal consecration to Christ and his service. Twenty-three persons have given their names for membership in a Senior Epworth League, which will be organized next Sunday evening at seven o'clock.

We take this opportunity to exhort all our people to continue in the Sunday school and other church work. Beginning next week our evening services will open at 8 p. m.

There will be no preaching at the Methodist church next Sunday morning, but at the evening hour the pastor will preach on the subject, "God's Perfect Man."

METHODIST BROTHERHOOD.

Attention please! Listen please! Be quiet and hear this important announcement. The last meeting of the Brotherhood will be held in the basement of the Methodist church next Wednesday night, 8 p. m. May 21. The ladies will furnish the program, and it will be one of the best ever. With this Brotherhood meeting, the organization will adjourn for the summer.

HARPER RECITAL.

The Recital given last Friday evening in the Yoe High school auditorium by the pupils of Russell C. Harper, was a most enjoyable affair and showed careful and painstaking training on the part of the instructor and diligent effort upon the part of the pupils.

A program of music and reading was followed by a fantastical play, entitled "Elsie in Dreamland."

In this play Hortense Klawansky took the part of Elsie, Little Misses Virginia Ledbetter and Helen Dierr, made excellent talking dolls and Miss Martha Schigut showed evidence of considerable talent in her voice numbers.

"Old marks were shattered by the mighty assaults of the South's premier athletes" Saturday May 3 at the track and field meet held in Atlanta, Georgia, Saturday May 3 and the name of Lee Sens, Cameron and former University of Texas star, was emblazoned upon the banners of victory.

Copies of the Atlanta Constitution and the Atlanta Journal received in Cameron give prominent mention to the events and conspicuous mention is given Lee Sens. His father Chas. Sens, constable, has loaned the paper to the Herald and we are glad to reproduce some of the comment respecting the great record of Lee Sens.

It was his great performance that helped Tech to nose out Georgia and the Atlanta Athletic Club in the third annual Southeastern amateur athletic union.

Lee won the 340 yard hurdles in 59.9 but has made better time. He was the individual star of the meet winning three first places and two new records.

Lee Sens showed them a thing or two yesterday by taking all the hurdle races. More, he broke the Southeastern A. A. U. record in the 120 yard hurdles. However it was his own record that he lowered. In the 440 yard low hurdles, run for the first time in a Southeastern A. A. U. meet, Lee set the extremely good time of 59.9 seconds for his contemporaries to shoot at. Incidentally he was high point winner with 15.—Atlanta Constitution.

The Atlanta Journal says: "Lee Sens is without a doubt the most finished hurdler in the South and will rank with the best in the east in any of the hurdle events. It is a pleasure to watch him work as he takes the hurdles with such ease and grace. He will probably represent this section in the Olympic trials at Harvard June 14."

F. Z. BISHOP OF SAN ANTONIO VISITS HERE ON LAND SALE MISSION.

F. Z. Bishop of San Antonio who has sold more land than any other realtor in America was in Cameron Monday and while here placed advertising for a new plains land settlement.

Never in the history of real estate dealings has such an offer been made to prospective buyers of land. The proposition contained in a full page advertisement in this issue is a combination investment, life insurance policy, health and accident insurance, tax saving and interest saving plan and in addition a farm can be purchased at $25 per month.

NEGRO KILLED ON RICE FARM HERE ON TUESDAY

CHAS. DOCKERY, FOREMAN, PLACED UNDER BOND FOLLOWING SHOOTING.

Solomon Crowfield, negro, was shot and killed Tuesday morning on the Rice farm near Cameron.

Following the shooting Chas. Dockery, foreman of the farm, surrendered to officers and was placed under bond.

The Rice Farm is owned by R. L. Batte and Mr. Dockery was foreman for the farm, the negro being a farmer working land.

It is said that the difficulty arose over instruction given the negro by Mr. Dockery about doing some farm work, the negro engaging in abuse of the foreman.

The case will await the action of the grand jury in the district court.

W. E. COLEY OF BUCKHOLTS WILL RUN FOR COLLECTOR

W. E. Coley of Buckholts will become a candidate for tax collector of Milam county. He was in Cameron Wednesday and said he would make the race for that office and his announcement will appear next week.

Women Enlist in National War Against Germ-carrying Flies; Provide Millions of "Swatters"

"Every fly swatted at this season of the year probably would have been the founder of a dynasty if allowed to live out its allotted time. The genius of Flydom, the Napoleon who will lead his armies, laden with the deadly germs to destroy the purity of milk and pollute clean and wholesome food, is crawling about the upper wall of your kitchen today, a harmless, easily destroyed youth.

Swat him! With one stroke you will wipe out pages and pages of history and the millions of his offspring will be nothing but the might-have-beens of fiction.

Swat every fly whether he seems to show promise of a great career or not. Talent takes strange twists and the puny little fellow they gave up for dead as a baby may develop into a Gladstone. Caesar was anemic in his youth—probably, and Scipio, as a child, had to hold on tight to the railings when the wind blew.

Swat the fly irrespective of sentimementality. If you swat at him and by some seemingly providential intervention of a swinging door you miss him, you may imagine that Fate has decreed he should be spared. Like a whimsical Caliban you may choose to let this particular fellow survive because you've taken a fancy to him. High purpose should know no sentimentality. Don't cultivate intimacies among even the most engaging flies. Swat one, swat all.

A million and a half fly swatters are being distributed just now throughout the country by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company as a part of the health campaign of their welfare division. Definite realization of the disease danger from flies is evidenced in this annual distribution. A thorough-going fly-swatting campaign at this season of the year is fostered by private and public health agencies. It has many times the value now that it would have later.

Swat the flies! Swat them now.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY PRESBY- TERIAN CHURCH, SOUTH.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian church in the U. S., sometimes called the Southern church, will meet this week in the First Presbyterian church of San Antonio. Rev. H. R. McFadyen, one of our local pastors will attend as the representative of the Presbytery of Central Texas. There will be some 600 in the Assembly from the states throughout the South. This is not so large a number as is found in some other high courts of churches but local churches are not represented in the Assembly but only Presbyterials, and then in proportion to membership.

There will be reports made to the Assembly as to all the work of the church. Advance information would indicate that this has been a very successful year in all departments. More young men and women are offering themselves for the work than ever before, and the Home and Foreign Missions committees have received larger amounts for their work than ever before.

Several matters of interest will occupy the attention of the Assembly. There will be a report on the country church problem that will be important. There will be also a hard fight on the matter of the change of time of the close of the church year. The church year now closes with Mar. 31. It is proposed to make it end with the calendar year, Dec. 31.

The First church, San Antonio, which is entertaining the Assembly has just completed extensive additions and improvements and has one of the most modern church plants in the southwest. The auditorium will seat several thousand. Rev. P. B. Hill, D. D. Pastor, is one of the liveliest religious leaders in the state.

AD HALL.

On account of absence from home we will not be able to fill our regular appointment Sunday afternoon.

H. R. MCFADYEN.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Our people want to extend a welcome to our city to the friends of the Singing Association. We enjoy good music and good fellowship wherever we find it, and we are going to have all this Sunday at the "all day singing."

There will be no services at the Presbyterian church Sunday on account of the absence of the pastor. Rev. H. R. McFadyen has been elected a representative for the Presbytery of Central Texas Presbytery, to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church which meets in San Antonio on Thursday of this week.

We fell off a little in attendance in the Bible school the past Sunday, but we had a full house just the same. Come out and be with us on next Sunday. We have a place and a class you will enjoy.

TEXAS PRESBYTERIAN EDUCATIONAL MOVEMENT.

The drive for $1,350,000 for the Presbyterian Educational institutions is going forward and it is hoped that in a short while the work will be completed. Indications now are that there will be by June the first, something like $1,200,000 of the total either paid in or subscribed. There are several of the larger churches still to put on the campaign and leaders now are optimistic and expect to "go over the top" very soon. The most important campaign now in progress is the Dallas campaign where they are attempting to raise $250,000 for an administration building for Austin college at Sherman. This is to be a memorial to Rev. Wm. Anderson, D. D., recently deceased, who for years was pastor of the First church, Dallas, and also intimately connected with the work of Austin college.

HONOR MISS ANNA LOU BASKIN

On Monday afternoon Mrs. Lena Triggs Baskin entertained the Cameron teachers of last year and this year in honor of Miss Anna Lou Baskin who was at home from Southwestern University for a week end visit accompanied by a bevy of beautiful girls from that famous institution.

Vases and bowls of sweet peas made the large reception suite of the Triggs home which was thrown open for this happy occasion most beautiful.

Mrs. W. O. Triggs assisted with hostess duties, introducing novel features and announced the beautiful vocal numbers rendered by Mrs. Chas. E. Peyton and Mrs. Alex Triggs.

The guests listened to a radio musical program broadcasted from the Dallas News Station. Then market reports were heard and weather reports up to the month of June. Then from Station Love, cupid broadcasting, came the following interesting announcement:

"On June 24, 1924, Miss Anna Lou Baskin will be married to Mr. Frank Wendt, of Lamesa, Texas."

After congratulations, the guests were seated at ten beautifully appointed tables centered with gilded jars of sweet peas for games of "Tarvel." Each table represented a station on the way from the bride's home in Cameron to her new home in Lamesa.

Misses Clyde and Rosalie Baskin as Butcher Boys' distributed candy, punch and chewing gum during the games and little Miss Lena Bell Baskin marked the progressions. The refreshment plate bearing brick cream in pink heart design and angel food cake with bridal icing carried quaint little traveling bag as souvenirs for the guests.

The following young ladies came home with Miss Anna Lou for the announcement party: Misses Julia Plummer of Beaumont, Lurie Foster of China Springs, Mary Alice Wilson of Elgin, Mary Nash Buttery and Katherine Alkins of Llano, Jewel Ozment of San Saba, Mary Elizabeth Beck of Taylor and Christine Walker of Texarkana.

Miss Artie Hargrove of Sharp and Mrs. Ben Baskin of Bryan were here for the party.

BRIDGE PARTY.

Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Charles McDermott entertained with a Bridge party naming as honoree, Mrs. John E. Lee of Minerva. Sweet Peas made the home beautiful and furnished the theme for table decoration and accessories. Baskets of these gorgeous blossoms centered each table and in the final cut fell to Mesdames John Edwards, Tiff Moore and Giles L. Avriett. Mrs. Oxsheer Smith made high score and was given a beautiful basket of sweet peas and the honoree, Mrs. Lee was the recipient of a royal bouquet of the favored blossoms. After the games a salad course in the favored colors was faultlessly served. The guests were Mesdames John E. Lee, John Watson, John Edwards, John Owens, Oxsheer Smith, H. F. Smith, Jr., Tiff Moore, Fritz Fahrendorff, S. A. Cottle, Giles Avriett, Simmie Burns, Misses Gladys Watson, Beth Jeter and Myrtle Avriett.

LUNCHEON.

The teachers of the Beginners and Primary Departments of the Baptist Sunday school honored Miss Marie Bryant, who will graduate from Yoe High school this term with a four course luncheon at 6 o'clock on Tuesday at the home of the Superintendent, Miss Winnie Henderson. The home was made beautiful with nasturtiums and the colors of that flower were favored in the refreshment course. The teachers were all present to do the honors of the occasion and the honoree had invited five members of the class to share her pleasures. They were Misses Zelma Adams, Gertrude Dunham, Mary Sue Denson, Estelle Brock and Nelta Sloan.

The following menu was served: Fruit cocktail, baked chicken, rice, gravy, peas in patties, hot rolls, butter, ice tea, pimento salad, olives, crackers, brick ice cream in class colors, angel food squares.

The girls had their fortunes told in unique manner and it developed that the honoree Miss Marie Bryant will find a husband who is or will be a druggist. Misses Mary Sue will find one who is wealthy. Miss Zelma Sloan will marry a merchant prince, and Miss Gertrude Dunham a policeman.

Wedding bells will ring first for Miss Estelle Brock.

Miss Marie has been the recipient of many beautiful graduation gifts.

DEGREE OF HONOR MEETS.

At the home of Mrs. Tracy Hobson Thursday afternoon the Degree of Honor, Cameron Lodge No. 54 met in a business and social meeting. There was a class initiation and business in general. Mrs. Eleanor Sparks, General Organizer of Waco, was present and filled the President's chair.

As the election of President was in order, Mrs. Bulah Redfield, former president having moved to Waco; Mrs. W. P. McCall was elected.

We are glad to have her for this office as she will mean much for the future of the order. We had present our little Mascot, Thomas Morris Aplin, this being the first infant to come into this Lodge since its organization. He was presented with a silver cup from the members with wishes that he will grow up to be a member of this great order.

All present expressed themselves as expecting a great future for Degree of Honor.

After the meeting, a social hour was enjoyed. The next meeting will be on the fourth Thursday at the home of Mrs. Tracy Hobson at 4 o'clock.

HISTORY CLUB.

The final meeting of the Cameron History Club was held on Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. T. S. Henderson. The event of the session was the selection of officers for next year and the following were unanimously chosen:

Pool Full of Poisoned Water

By ANTHONY REIMERT

(© 1924, Western Newspaper Union)

A day long, alone, the sheriff had ridden grimly after the fugitive. It was not the first time he had pursued him. The Nogales Kid had broken jail three weeks before, and the sheriff had his work cut out for him all over again.

Between these two men, the most desperate outlaw the West had known in years, and the celebrated thief-taker, there was a sort of grim chivalry. Neither would take an unfair advantage of the other. It was famous throughout the West, that inverted kind of a love that they bore each other. Yet each would have shot the other down unhesitatingly, in the course of business.

The Kid had been riding through the barren lands for three days. He was not far from the border now, and once across it he would be safe. But he would have to stop at the water-hole—the only one between the border and his pursuer.

The water-hole was marked saline on the maps, but though the water was reputed to be undrinkable the sheriff knew that the Kid would have to sample it. In no other way could he reach the boundary. Salt as the sea, the temptation would be irresistible.

And he—he, too, would have to drink of that bitter water. He knew that as he rode on, his wearied, thirsting pony achieving only the slowest pace. No matter! The Kid must be in just as bad a fix. It was a test of endurance. And both men lived upon their nerves.

The sheriff was nearing the water-hole. He scanned the horizon. Ha! Just as he had suspected. There was the Kid's horse, that black patch against the white of the alkali, lying down, perhaps dead. The Kid was his! The sheriff exultantly drew his six-gun and spurred his horse into a dejected amble.

When he drew nearer the sheriff saw the Kid. The sun was low in the west, and it was impossible to mistake that little, elongated black patch beside the water-hole. The sheriff left his pony just beyond gun-range and began running forward. At a distance of a hundred paces he flung himself upon the ground.

He wriggled forward through the alkali. As he drew nearer he made quite sure that the figure was that of the Kid. He wondered why the Kid did not open fire, dead shot that he was, or at least seek the advantage of the cover of the big boulder on the further side of the little pool. But the Kid lay motionless.

Shamming, no doubt, to throw him off his guard, but the Kid ought to have known that the sheriff was too old a hand to be taken in by that maneuver. He continued to worm his way forward, his gun in his hand, ready to open fire. At the same time he would take the Kid prisoner if possible.

A sudden thought came to him that perhaps the Kid was asleep, worn out after the fatigue of the long ride. The Kid had never been caught napping yet. The sheriff remained on his guard.

But now he was within twenty paces, and the Kid lay on his back, unmoving. The sheriff covered him. He sprang to his feet.

"Hands up, Kid!" he bellowed.

The Kid remained irresponsive. Still covering him, the sheriff made his way round the little pool toward him.

The Kid lay on his back, his open eyes staring up at the blue sky. His face was curiously mottled, and he was breathing hard. The sheriff saw that he was almost at his end. He removed the Kid's belt with the pistols, and began examining the body for a wound.

He turned the Kid over. There was no wound. The sheriff was bewildered. What had happened to the Kid? Clearly some disease must have attacked him, something malignant and diabolically quick in its action.

But now a torturing thirst beset him. At any cost he felt that he must satisfy it, even with the brackish water. It was a desperately long ride to the next pool. Only the utmost resolution could carry him there.

He turned toward the pool. But suddenly a faint cry from the Kid arrested him.

"Sheriff!"

The sheriff turned. "What is it, Kid?"

"Don't drink that water, sheriff. It's full of arsenic," muttered the Kid, as he lapsed into the final coma.

Plan Works Too Well

A young matron is now bewailing the success of a plan originated by her and put into operation some time ago. Her husband had been in the habit of turning up late for dinner one or two nights a week. One evening she playfully suggested that he should pay a fine of $2 every time he was delinquent and that in return she would refrain from chiding him.

He agreed without protest, and the next night cheerfully paid a fine. But the trouble now is that the young matron's allowance has been increased by this means $12 a week and she doesn't know whether to mourn that her husband doesn't love her any more or to contract to purchase on the installment plan a grand piano which she has long coveted. —New York Sun and Times.

The Legislative History of the Commission

By WALTER SPLAWN
Railroad Commissioner of Texas.

To the Legislature of 1891 Governor Hogg outlined in detail his plan for a commission. He asked for ample provision for its support; that it be composed of three members to be appointed by the Governor; that it be clothed with sufficient power to enable it to make, establish, and maintain reasonable rates and rules for the handling and transportation of freight and passengers. He further recommended that the powers and duties of the commission be prescribed and that the kind of common carriers to be regulated be defined. He also asked that the commission when organized should require detailed reports from railway companies of their property, liabilities and business, and of their contracts and dealings in general with persons and corporations, according to the plan of accounting directed by the commission; to authorize investigations of their affairs by inspection of the corporate books and on the testimony of witnesses; to have them furnish duplicate freight receipts to shippers when demanded; and of great importance, prohibit and punish rebates, extortion, and discrimination by the railroads. He asked that in all respects the Legislature vest the commission with power to fully "accomplish its laudable purpose—to give freedom to commerce, security to the railroads, and protection to the public."

The House passed one bill, the Senate another and in conference the differences were adjusted and a bill in its final form was passed by both houses of the Legislature and approved by the Governor on April 3, 1891.

PIONEER, MRS. TEXANNA RUCKER, BURIED MONDAY

HAD RESIDED IN CAMERON TEN YEARS—BURIED NEAR HOLLAND.

Mrs. Texanna Rucker, a resident of this city for ten years, died at her home on East Third Street, Saturday night, May 10, about 10 o'clock.

She had not been in her usual health for the past two months but the sudden coming of the grim reaper on Saturday evening, was a shock to her family and friends.

Although practically an invalid for many years, she had always preserved a cheerful optimism and was known and loved by a wide circle of friends, many of whom claimed the privilege of calling her "Aunt Teek," wishing to come close to one who had given her life in loving service to a family of orphan nieces and nephews left to her care in their tender years.

As soon as her friends were advised of her death, they gathered at the home of her niece, Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp, where her body rested, to pay their tribute of love and respect.

A short service was held in this home Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. R. S. Marshall, pastor of the Cameron Methodist church. After this service, the body was carried to the old Reed homestead in Bell County, near Holland, now occupied by her brother, William Reed and family.

On Monday afternoon, she was buried in the family lot in the Sunshine cemetery.

Near this cemetery, is the site of the old Sunshine school, which she taught for several years and where she endeared herself to the boys and girls of the community, many of whom, now grown to mature years, still live in the vicinity.

Hundreds of friends from Bell, Milam and Williamson counties attended the funeral which was conducted by Rev. R. E. Roberts, pastor of the Bartlett Christian church, assisted by Rev. B. B. Blaylock of Temple. Both paid worthy tributes to her Christian life and work. Rev. Mr. Hawkins of Holland offered the closing prayer.

Her nephews acted as pall bearers and her nieces placed the beautiful floral offerings on the grave.

Mrs. Texanna Rucker, nee Miss Texanna Reed, was born on the old Reed homestead near Holland, Texas, on August 1, 1854. She was the fourth daughter of William Reed and his wife, Emeline Cobb, pioneer people of Texas and Bell county, whose parents were members of the original Robertson Colony and settled in Texas in the early thirties.

Her people had settled in Bell county before the "Runaway Scrape" and several members of the family served in Sam Houston's army.

Mrs. Rucker was educated in the public schools of Bell county, and in the Sam Houston State Normal school at Huntsville, Texas.

She taught several terms in the schools of Bell and Milam counties, retiring from the teachers profession to rear the seven orphan children of her sister, Mrs. Atlas Armstrong. She trained each of these most carefully, the girls being graduates of Baylor College, Belton. Mrs. Rucker also carefully conserved their finances which had been entrusted to her and to her brothers care.

About ten years ago, her health became very much impaired and she

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.

came to Cameron to live near her sister, Mrs. Martha Rogers.

The end was unexpected although she has been in failing health for about two months.

Mrs. Rucker was a devoted member of the Christian church in Cameron. She joined the church while in Huntsville while she was a student there.

She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Martha Rogers of Cameron and Mrs. Virginia Sybert of Oklahoma City, and two brothers, Mr. Wm. S. Reed, who lives on the old homestead, and Dr. Vol Reed of Holland and by numerous nephews and nieces.

HARPER'S PUPILS OFFER DELIGHTFUL PROGRAM.

The pupils of Russell C. Harper were presented in recital Friday night in the auditorium of the Yee High school and were greeted by a very appreciative audience.

Miss Kathleen Baggett's interpretation of "The Mason Family on Exhibition" was very good, especially so considering her short study. Miss Martha Schigut, also a pupil of only a few months is the possessor of a very sweet voice and her singing was delightfully pleasing.

Perhaps the most outstanding part of the program was the children's play "Elsie In Dreamland." While the play lacked somewhat in finish and technique Mr. Harper is to be complimented on the smoothness and sympathy his pupils showed. Little Hortense Klawansky as "Elsie" and little Helen Dierr and Virginia Ledbetter as her dear dollies Jack and Beth were indeed sweet and charming and captivated their audience. The program as a whole was interesting, entertaining and well rendered. Mrs. Jeter's pupils ably assisted on the program.

OWENS REFINING CO. LEADS WAY TO GREAT OIL DEVELOPMENT

The story of the development of the great petroleum deposits in Milam county is a practical chronicle of the Owens Refining Company which began its operation in the Minerva field in 1922 and from what then was an obscure source of wealth and industry has developed a formidable enterprise that is annually bringing into the arteries of trade hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The romantic story of oil development elevates the wild cat driller as the pioneer in the great discoveries that have set the world agog and reared monumental fortunes. And this is true, for in the beginning it took the faith of the wildcat and the pioneering of men who pinned their faith to fortune that leads on to the foot of the rainbow. Little did those men years ago dream or realize that under the soil of this great and prosperous Texas county would someday be found in paying quantities that liquid gold to which all the world now turns in dependence for greater utility. But they had faith. Oil was found in small quantities but they lacked capital and the genius of organization and the vision of greater industry.

That lack was supplied by the Owens Refining Company in 1922 when John S. Owens of Ardmore, Oklahoma, pitched his tent southward and comprehended the vast possibilities of what is now regarded as one of the best shallow oil fields in America. Without the development he gave the field no great natural resource products such as we now have would have added to the riches of the county or supplied the scope of utility to which these gasolines and oils are now put in ever increasing volume.

It was a great day for Cameron and Milam county when by conjunction of industrial genius on the one hand and a co-operative endeavor on the other, the Owens Refining Company became a factor in the commercial life of Cameron and Milam county.

From the establishment of the 1500 barrel refinery at Minerva development progressed until today it is the proud industrial heritage of the county that literally hundreds of barrels of high grade oil are taken daily from wells over a wide area to the plant where the purest of gasoline is made and supplied to filling stations in Cameron and many cities and counties throughout Texas.

Without the aid of the refinery which brought to Cameron a market for the oil the field would today be an undeveloped area. The refinery brought development rapidly. Scarcely had the plant been set in order for operation until pipe lines began to web the field and the stream of liquid gold in increasing quantities came pouring in to find its way into the great world of industry in finished products of the finest quality, giving power and supplying fuel for hundreds of operations peculiar to this day of progress.

It is an immeasurable service to this county that the Owens Refining Company has made it possible for millions of dollars to accrue to the county and it is heartening to see potential and circulating wealth of that deserving respect is being shown this great service in increased consumption of gasoline and oils. The people are coming more and more to appreciate the value and quality of gasoline and oils such as are furnished by the Owens Refining Company from our own natural resources and it is encouraging to the company to see an increasing market demand for Milam county products.

Not only has the Owens Refining Company been instrumental in bringing such meritorious products as these to the service of the people but it has brought wealth to others because land owners as well as operators and drillers have shared in the financial benefits from this development. The value of oil and contiguous emoluments such as leases and royalties has become one of the dependable financial sources of the county for the money paid into the pocket of the people who own these lands will soon run into millions annually.

The Owens Refining Company is altogether responsible for the development of the field, seeing the possibilities where others failed to see them and therefore deserves entire credit for the present production.

John S. Owens by reason of his genius for organization and development merits in every way the increasing influence which his industry evolves in the life of the county, but the significant purpose is that this great industry is a partnership for every citizen because in its success is the success of the county and in its development is the development of individual interests among the people for no enterprise of this nature bringing as it does into immediate and regular circulation such stabilizing source of wealth fails to become a lasting benefit to all.

To urge that the people of Milam county should prefer the products of this refining company when their qualities are best known by test, is merely stating an obvious conclusion, thinks Mr. Owens, for it is apparent that home industry is entitled to every possible consideration.

The City of Cameron is responsible for the Owens Refining Company as the power of development in the Milerva field for in its zeal to promote the interests of the county it threw the weight of its good offices to the proposition of exploiting the natural resources in petroleum and the city realizes with a unanimity that spells co-operation in terms that augur well for the future if this great industry.

Such deserving industrial examples as this should and will always merit first consideration from the people among whom it originated and whom it serves in the manufacture of petroleum products as well as creating and perpetuating sources of wealth and diffused financial benefits.

Finding Silk at the Seance

By CLARA DELAFIELD
(©, 1924, Western Newspaper Union.)

"TELL you it's the real thing," said Purvis to his wife. "Mrs. Capell is the most famous medium in the country. Eminent scientists have testified to the genuineness of the materializations. She is searched before she enters the cabinet."

"Oh John, darling, I must stop at Rodway's first, and try to match that white silk for Mrs. Jones."

"No time," growled her husband. "We'll have to leave it for next time we come into town. The seance begins in ten minutes. We'll have to take a taxi."

In the taxi Purvis, who was an enthusiast, continued: "I tell you this is your chance of seeing the most wonderful exhibition of the century. Mrs. Capell is a genuine medium. She is examined, then she goes into the cabinet, and the most wonderful figures emerge; clothed in ectoplasm."

"What's ectoplasm, dear?" asked Mrs. Purvis.

"Oh Lord, haven't I explained that to you again and again? Ectoplasm is a filmy emanation from the body of the medium, out of which the spirits of the departed build up their—"

"I do wish it had been possible to match that silk for Mrs. Jones," sighed his wife. "She is so anxious for me to try and get some."

"Just like a woman!" growled Purvis. "Here you have the opportunity of investigating the most wonderful exhibition of the century, proving beyond doubt the survival of the dead, and you go worrying about a piece of silk!"

Little Mrs. Purvis sighed and was silent. In due course the taxi deposited them at their destination. Inside the drawing-room a curtain had been stretched across one corner. Mr. Capell was speaking. He told of his wife's wonderful materializations. He took up a collection. The lights were turned down, except for a ghostly glimmer in one corner. Mrs. Capell, clothed in a dark material, entered the cabinet. The gramophone began. Silence.

Then a gasp as a white-clad figure appeared in the entrance. It disappeared. Another emerged. Mr. Capell approached the front line of the audience.

"Will the lady on the left step up to the cabinet?" he asked. "The spirit says it's Uncle John."

The lady stepped up and in hollow tones the specter held a conversation with her. She returned wiping her eyes.

"Dear Uncle John says he's happy," she whispered to her companion. "Hope Uncle John doesn't find it too warm where he is," growled a skeptic next to Mrs. Capell.

One by one the audience were invited to step up as the ghosts issued from the cabinet. Purvis pinched his wife's arm.

"Believe now?" he demanded. "I tell you it's the most wonderful—"

"Oh, I wish I could speak to dear Aunt Eliza," said Mrs. Purvis. "What'd you want to see that old cat about?"

"Darling, she died without giving me that wonderful recipe for banana pudding that—"

"Oh, you're hopeless," muttered Mr. Purvis.

"But don't you think she'd give it to me now, darling?" whispered his wife. "I'm sure she doesn't need it any more, and—"

Mr. Capell touched Mrs. Purvis on the arm. He had appeared most mysteriously beside her. "There's a spirit known by the name of Eliza," he said in a hoarse whisper. "She wants to speak to you—"

Mr. and Mrs. Purvis took their stand in front of the cabinet. A white-robed specter was standing in the entrance.

"Is it—Aunt Eliza?" whispered Mrs. Purvis tremulously. "Oh, dear Aunt Eliza, you know you always promised me that recipe for banana—"

"Banana nothing."

With a howl the specter darted back into the cabinet as the skeptic, apparently by a prearranged plan, suddenly leaped forward and tore the filmy stuff from its spectral bones. At the same time the lights went up.

"Fake! Fake!" yelled the skeptic, holding up yards and yards of clinging white material. "There's your ectoplasm for you!"

"You're a liar!"

"You're another! They're fakers! It's an insult to common sense!"

But amid the pandemonium Mrs. Purvis leaped forward ecstatically and snatched the ectoplasm from the skeptic's hand.

"Darling, I've got it!" she cried ecstatically. "It's real silk, and it matches Mrs. Jones' sample to a shade!"

"PRUDENCE"

By FLORENCE MELLISH

WHEN Amos Whiting told Hawkins to give Oscar French something on the Eagle, Oscar did not have the vanity to think it was wholly on account of his own journalistic ability. Oscar's father had been Amos Whiting's closest chum. But Oscar had a knack for writing, and he meant to make good.

"You'll have to take whatever, Hawkins gives you, even if it doesn't happen to suit your taste; then, by and by, you may get something different."

"We're swamped with sub reporters already. But if Whiting—see here, you may have 'The Twilight Hour'."

Mrs. Starkweather is laid up indefinitely. You give advice to girls, discreet and sensible, but sympathetic. See? Your desk is over there by the window. I'll send you some of Mrs. Starkweather's files so that you can get her drift. Your signature will be 'Prudence Kenworthy'."

"But—Isn't that a lady's name?" Oscar gasped.

"Of course, and you want to be lady-like and refined, you know. No tough stuff and no slang. You'll soon get the feminine touch."

"Great Caesar!" groaned Oscar French. "I don't want to get a feminine touch. I want a man's job."

Hawkins turned a curt shoulder. "That's all I have for you now. You can take it or leave it."

Young French set his teeth. "I'll take it."

"Oh, you'll like it when you get started, especially when the personal letters come in. But don't try to answer many of them. It's a waste of time."

Young French strode over to the desk by the window and buried himself in Mrs. Starkweather's files. He began his uncongenial task with grim determination, and soon had the satisfaction of feeling that at least he was equal to it. When some waggish reporters left an offering of camellias and maidenhair ferns with a box of chocolates on his desk he placidly dumped the flowers into the wastebasket and ate the candy with ostentatious relish.

Oscar's main determination to get the feminine touch was a success. He soon out-Prudenced Prudence herself, and the personal letters poured in assuring Miss Kenworthy that she was "better and better every day."

The personal letters! He did enjoy them, though he followed Hawkins' advice and answered few of them. But he did write personally to Georgie Goodale. Georgie wasn't sentimental or whiny, and she had some "pep."

She lived in Martinville with her aunt Rachel. Aunt Rachel was a dear, but she wouldn't let Georgie do anything that the other young people did, and she was opposed to Georgie's studying law.

"Dear Miss Kenworthy," Georgie wrote, "your letters are a comfort and an inspiration, too. The twilight hour is the best in my day. But I'd give my new camera for a talk with you face to face. Now you like fishing; you said you did. Back of our cottage is a wonderful trout brook, and Aunt Rachel's luncheons are gorgeous. Can't we make a date?"

Oscar French caught at the idea. He did make a date with Georgie. He laughed at the mirrored image of his fisherman's costume in anticipation of her surprise. He looked forward like a schoolboy to the tete-a-tete and the good fishing and Aunt Rachel's "gorgeous luncheon." But when he actually stood on the platform of Marshallville station he scanned the faces of the women waiting there, half dreading to meet Georgie.

"I have lots of freckles and look like a boy," she had written. He failed to identify the buoyant and vivacious Georgie in the middle-aged and faded-looking group. A lanky, freckled youth encumbered with fishing tackle, was watching the women who alighted from the train.

"I'm looking for Prudence Kenworthy," he announced impersonally. "Hello, Georgie," called a genial employee, who was carrying leather mailbags.

Oscar faced the freckled youth. "That's one of my names."

The freckled youth grinned. "I'm Georgie. The joke's on me," he added magnanimously.

"No, it's on me," French insisted, not to be outdone. "You have the freckles, at any rate. Is there a real trout brook?"

"You bet your life there is! and a cloudy day like this—oh, boy! Come on, partner, and we'll show 'em."

"I'm glad you aren't a lady," Georgie consoled to his companion when the wicker baskets were nearly full. "I was beginning to have cold feet."

"So was I," French acknowledged.

"Well, it's time for luncheon, and Aunt Rachel promised to make a peach short-cake. I guess she'll have chicken salad, too."

They tramped across the fields and approached the cottage from the back way," cried Georgie, who was striding ahead in the narrow path.

Oscar looked over Georgie's shoulder. That union of girlish grace and womanly poise? Why, Aunt Rachel was peaches and cream!

"Luncheon's ready, Georgie," she called and vanished.

Georgie waved his guest up the broad, low stone steps. Oscar French drew in the fragrance of hot coffee and short-cake and, passing through the low vine-wreathed doorway, he followed Aunt Rachel like a dove.

ENGLISH IN SEVENTH GRADE.

The seventh grade of 1923-24 is the first class to contribute articles that have appeared in the papers started on March 13, 1924, and have appeared each week. A great improvement has been made in the writing of the articles. This good work was under the supervision of Mrs. Kathryn Robbins who is in charge of the English department in Grammar school of course. Mrs. Robbins corrected errors but the ideas on each subject were entirely the work of the seventh grade.

GARDINE LESOVSKY.

Rev. Marshall, pastor of the Methodist church, brought Brother Wells, the director of the singing during the revival, to the school to lead the opening exercises on Tuesday May the sixth. Brother Wells refused to sing a solo, but promised when he came again he would sing.

The next morning all of the children of the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grade were surprised to find Brother Wells at school again and to find that he brought with him Rev. King Vivian, who conducted the meeting at the church, to tell us a story. Brother Wells sang for us as he had promised and led the study hall full of delighted children in some songs. Rev. Vivian told the story of "David and the Giant," to which all the children listened with interest. Although the story is old and has been told over and over again, still it will never grow so old that it will not be enjoyed by the boys and girls, when as interestingly told as it was on this occasion.

We regret that the meeting is over, for we shall miss their visits to our school, as well as the meetings at the church in the afternoons, where Brother Wells showed us and taught us many good lessons.

IRENE SHIRLEY.

HONESTY.

In a recent issue of one of our magazines, there was an article on honesty among our young people. Questions had been submitted to school boys and girls and the answers were printed. Their replies were surprising, and thinking people remembered that there is much to be done. Nearly every child said it was not wrong to steal from a thief, a railroad company, or other corporations. To be caught stealing seemed to be the crime. The children of this school do not believe things like this, but think of the thousands of boys and girls who do not know any better.

Even in the Cameron schools it is the usual thing, for pencils fountain pens, books or any school material to mysteriously disappear. Teachers do not single out individuals for that would be unkind and unjust when they have no positive proof of guilt, but surely every boy and girl should know that the principal involved in taking trifles is the same as that involved when the robber steals one thousand dollars.

Students not only have to withstand such temptation, but should clear such ideas from the minds of others who do not know any better. Temptations to do wrong come every day but, they must be resisted. We must be strong and stand the test and be honest in all our dealings with our teachers and companions.

DEATH OF FRANK HICKLIN.

Mr. Frank Hicklin, Sr., aged 72, after a lingering illness of several months, died at the family home at 1402 South Main street at 3:15 o'clock Monday afternoon. He had lived in this city since 1892 and had a large circle of friends here who held him in high esteem.

Mr. Hicklin was born in Shelbyville, Kentucky, but was brought to Texas by his parents when he was about three years of age, the family settling in Gaudalope county. In young manhood Mr. Hicklin lived for a number of years in Seguin. In 1880 he married Miss Floretta Streetman of Cameron, Texas, a member of one of the most prominent and highly esteemed families of that city. After residing at Cameron for a short time Mr. and Mrs. Hicklin moved to Sweetwater where Mr. Hicklin engaged in the lumber business. They moved to Weatherford in 1892 and for many years Mr. Hicklin was a traveling salesman for the S. G. Davis Hat Company of Dallas and continued with that firm until several years ago he was obliged to retire on account of failing health. He has been a sufferer for many years and endured it with patience and fortitude until God called him home.

Mr. Hicklin is survived by his wife and seven children, as follows: Mrs. R. D. Brown, Cameron; Mrs. J. S. Pickard, Dallas; Mrs. Fred Branch, Munday; Mrs. Dallis H. Chisholm, Mrs. Allen Templeton and Frank Hicklin, Jr., of Dallas and Tom Hicklin of Weatherford. He is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. I. H. Snyder of Austin and Mrs. Alice Shaw of Houston.

Funeral services were held at the home at 4:30 p. m. Tuesday conducted by Rev. John E. McLean, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, of which the deceased was a member, and assisted by Rev. J. G. Morris, pastor of the Central Christian church. The active pall bearers were Frank Carter, Jim L. McCall,

F. C. Leach, A. H. Russell and W. B. Wassum.

The body was shipped to Austin on the 5:25 train Tuesday evening the following members of the family accompanying it: Mr. and Mrs. Branch, Tom Hicklin, Mrs. Chisholm and Mrs. Hicklin. At Austin they were met by Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Brown of Cameron, Mrs. Shaw and Judge Streetman of Houston, the latter being a brother of Mrs. Hicklin. On Wednesday Mr. Hicklin's body was laid to rest beside that of his mother in Austin cemetery.—Weatherford Democrat.

FLOWERS FOR MOTHERS' DAY AT BAPTIST CHURCH.

Sunday was Mothers' Day at the Baptist church and thoughtful members provided a large variety of white and red blossoms for the day. Those who assisted in distributing the flowers among the church attendants were Misses Gladys Blaylock and McLerran and Mrs. Ed. Balhorn and Mrs. Don Slocumb. The committee to decorate the church was headed by Mrs. J. E. Mangum. Many contributed flowers and the church was well arranged for the special service.

591 ATTENDED SUNDAY SCHOOL AT BAPTIST CHURCH HERE SUNDAY.

Sunday was another banner day in the Baptist Sunday school when 591 were enrolled and in attendance at the church on last Sunday morning. The church now finds it difficult to seat the large numbers who are coming to the Sunday school to be taught the Bible and plans are being considered for the enlargement of the church sometime in the near future.

11 ADDED TO BAPTIST CHURCH HERE ON SUNDY

MOTHERS' DAY SERVICE GLORIOUS EXPERIENCE FOR CHURCH.

Eleven additions were made to the Baptist church membership on Sunday morning. Five of these additions were by transfer and six were by conversion at the close of a special Mothers' Day sermon by the pastor E. S. Hutcherson.

Seldom has it been the experience of the church to witness the addition of such a number at the regular service nor a more appealing sermon than the special message from the pastor spoken under conditions of great stimulation—a magnetic gospel sermon eloquent in expression and sweeping in power.

A special section of the auditorium had been reserved for mothers attending the service and this was filled to overflowing other sections of the building by mothers who had come to attend the special service arranged in their behalf.

A special program of music was also arranged for the service and Miss Inez Evans sang an appropriate solo. Miss Cox also sang. At the close of the sermon Miss Nell DuBois sang a song which led up to the invitation of the pastor for uniting with the church.

On next Sunday a speaker coming in the interest of the prohibition movement will speak at the eleven o'clock hour. O. L. Kidd has been asked to preside at this meeting and introduce the speaker.

The pastor left the city Monday for Atlanta, Georgia, to attend the Southern Baptist convention. H. M. Roark was requested to lead the prayer meeting service on Wednesday.

On next Sunday night Dr. John L. Denson and J. H. Dubois will be in charge of the service and will speak for ten minutes each at the service hour. At both morning and night the orchestra has been asked to prepare a special musical program.

Special preparation will start this week for the meeting of the Baptist laymen on Friday night May 30, a down town building having been secured for the occasion.

100 MEN ATTEND BAPTIST MEN'S BIBLE CLASS ON SUNDAY "MOTHERS' DAY."

One hundred men were seated in the bible class of the men at the Baptist church on Sunday morning. The class attendance dropped from 138 the previous Sunday to 100. This is the largest men's class in Milam county and one of the largest in central Texas for regular attendance. O. L. Kidd is teacher of the class and J. H. Dubois is president of the class and both are untiring workers for the improvement of the class and its large attendance. The Class Sunflay contributed almost one fifth of the total attendance of the Sunday school. The total Sunday school attendance for Sunday at the Baptist church was 545 the second largest number ever enrolled for one day. The largest attendance on record was on Sunday May 4 when 717 were enrolled for the day.

CANDIDATE COMMISSIONER AGRICULTURE VISITS HERE.

Robert E. Sparkman of Ellis County, candidate for State Commissioner of agriculture to succeed Geo. B. Terrell who is serving his second term was in town Thursday afternoon in the interest of his candidacy.

Mr. Sparkman is a member of the state legislature from Ellis county and spoke tenderly of his association with Col. Ike Looney and very highly of the service rendered by Hon. O. D. Baker and Col. Looney.

Mr. Sparkman was reared in Hill county and served as clerk of the district court four years, moving to Ellis county where he engaged in farming and live stock raising and is widely known as a progressive farmer and stockman. Mr. Sparkman was author of the bill which passed the last session protecting the cotton farmers of the state against the bootlegging of inferior cotton seed for planting purposes and is believed by many to be the most valuable piece of legislation from the farmers stand point passed in many years.

Mr. Sparkman was also joint author of the "bad check" bill which passed the house and defeated in the senate. Mr. Sparkman represents the greatest agricultural county in the state from the stand point of production and has made agriculture a life study and his friends in North Texas believe that he is qualified to render the state a valuable service in the department of agriculture and that as a democrat he measures up to the Jeffersonian standard as being both worthy and capable.

Mr. Sparkman spoke very highly of the people he met in Milam county and stated that the crop conditions every where he had been appeared to be very promising, though a little late.

LYCH DAVIDSON IS FOR FARMERS AND ALL CLASSES WHO LABOR.

Closing his weeks itinerary in East Texas Saturday evening at Corsicana where he spoke to one of the largest audiences every hearing a candidate for governor in that city, Lynch Davidson candidate for governor next week will shift the scene of his candidacy to West Texas to fill four postponed dates.

At Corsicana a royal reception was given the former lieutenant governor in applause from his hearers and at a dinner tendered him prior to his address.

Mr. Davidson took up the planks of his platform explaining his business management program of economies, reorganization and adjustments in state management program of economies, reorganization and adjustments in state endeavors, and elimination of wasted motion and expense, whereby he proposes to strike $10,000,000 biennially from the cost of administration and reduce taxes without impairing governmental administration.

During the week, Lynch carried to other East Texas audiences special discussions on his reforestation plans and answers to his opponents attacks on his saving the State Railroad. Probably the only outstanding thrust of the week at him was what he termed "Pope's ancient political maneuvers for a debate with a man he feared most in the race."

In his address at Corsicana Mr. Davidson stated that political leaders of Texas were attempting to brand him as being in opposition to the farmer and laboring men: "when I have emphasized that if I were ever tempted to class favoritism it would be to favor that very class. I am in deepest sympathy with the farmer and laborer, but it is the political injection into their platform of socialistic ideas to which I am opposed and which I know when understood will be opposed by every self-thinking, home-loving farmer and laborer in this great state. I am protecting the farmer he said."

FARM BUREAU RE-DISTRICTS THE STATE.

The directors of the Farm Bureau Cotton Association met last Wednesday and completed the work of re-districting the state and made arrangements for the annual election of new directors which will be held during the present month.

The fact that the membership and amount of cotton handled through the association has increased more than one hundred per cent during the past year makes it necessary to rearrange the districts to give adequate representation to all members.

Members of the association thru the state will hold county conventions on the afternoon of May 10 to select delegates to their district conventions to be held May 17. At the district convention nominees for directors will be selected and certified to the association, after which postal card ballots will be taken from every member residing in the respective districts.

In the new districts agreed upon last week Milam county is placed in District No. 7, with Brazos, Burleson, Falls, Freestone, Leon, Limestone, McLennan, Milam and Robertson, counties making up the district—Thorndale Champion.

WHERE TO TRAIN FOR BUSINESS IN LESS THAN HALF THE USUAL TIME.

How would you like to know that before the end of 1924, you could step into a good position in business—a position paying you a good salary and offering you splendid opportunities for promotion?

YOU CAN DO THIS. In fact, if you act now, there is no reason in the world why you should not be drawing your first salary check from business some time in September or October—or even earlier. And you will be doing nothing more than thousands of young people have been doing for several years.

Under the methods employed in practically all of the business schools of America, this would be an impossibility. In fact, the writer knows of but one school in the land which you could get a thorough business training in such a short time. This school is America's biggest business school—TYLER COMMERCIAL COLLEGE, Tyler, Texas.

At this great school, owing to intensive methods, superior, especially designed courses, a great faculty of trained experts, and equipment that is up to the minute in every respect, the time required for any business training course has virtually been cut in half.

The longest courses of T. C. C.

require seven months—and they are courses which in most schools require from seventy-two to one hundred weeks to study. The shorter business courses may be completed in four months or less and many of the special courses may be finished in from three weeks to three months.

At Tyler Commercial College, dedicated as it is to training young people for success in life one will find courses to suit every ambition, every degree of education, every purse. For young people who wish to step over the smaller jobs in business, there are courses in Secretarial work, in Business Administration, in Higher Accountancy, Banking, etc. For those who wish more quickly to begin earning their way, there are courses in Stenography, Bookkeeping, Civil Service work, etc. For young people who wish to enter the great field railway work, a field in which the chances for promotion are unlimited, there is a department devoted to Telegraphy, to Station

Work and other railway executive duties.

There are also courses in Radio-telegraphy and Radio-telephony, in Cotton Classing—all fitting young people for positions which will place them far above the average and start them in the way to higher places.

So, if you are interested in a bigger future—and if you want to save half the usual time in making your start, why not get in touch with Tyler Commercial College and arrange to start a course there.

If you have not made up your mind, fill in the coupon below and mail it to them for their large interesting book, "Achieving Success in Business."

"Clarence" Senior Play High School on May 23

Clarence, a comedy in four acts by Booth Tarkington will be presented by the Senior class of the C. H. Yoe High school Friday evening, May 23rd, at 8:30 p. m.

Clarence has no medals, no shoulder bars, no great accomplishments. One of the "five million," he served where he was sent—though it was no further than Texas. As an entomologist he found—on this side of the ocean—no field for his specialty in the great war. So they set him to driving mules.

Now, reduced to civil life and seeking a job, he finds a position in the home of one, Wheeler, a wealthy Englewood man with a family. And because he'd "been in the army" he becomes guide, philosopher and friend to the members of that same agitated and distracted family group. Clarence's position is an anomalous one. He mends the bath room plumbing, he turns the piano, he types off stage he plays saxophone. And around him revolves such a group of characters as only Booth Tarkington could offer. It is a real American comedy; and the audience ripples with appreciative laughter.

Those marvelous young people Cora and Bobby Wheeler, are portrait sketches warranted to appeal to every one but the originals. Their truth will be lost on the "Flapper" and the "prep" school youth, but to their parents and guardians, to all, indeed, who have emerged from the serious, self-conscious period of adolescence, they will be an enduring joy. "Clarence" is a real delight. It is as American as "Huckleberry Finn" or pumpkin pie. It is as delightful, as any native comedy which has tried to lure the laughter of this country in the last ten seasons.

Don't forget the date as it will be your last chance to see many of the stars of the present class in action. The Auditorium of the high school will be taxed to capacity. The proceeds will go to the school athletic fund.

Admission, adults 50 cents and students 35 cents.

RESOLUTION OF RESPECT.

Men's Bible Class, First Baptist Church of Cameron, Texas:

May 11th, 1924.

Whereas, Providence has called from his earthly activities a beloved member of our class, Mr. E. A. Flinn;

Therefore, be it resolved by the Men's Bible Class of the First Baptist Church of Cameron:

1. That in the decease of our friend and fellow classman we have sustained the loss of a valiant co-worker and a consecrated Christian character, and that the industrial, social and religious life of the entire community has lost an exponent whose life and achievements have blessed and will continue to bless his fellow-man.

2. That we extend our sympathy and condolence to the family and relatives of the deceased, and point them to the Great Comforter in whom he placed his faith and trust.

3. That a copy of these resolutions be delivered to the family of the deceased.

Respectfully,

LETTER TO STATE AID SCHOOLS

School trustees and patrons will please remember that the requirements for schools applying for State Aid next school term have been changed or raised from those required heretofore. In order that a school may be entitled to receive State Aid next school term or year the school must have a school tax rate of 75c on the $100 valuation.

Several school districts in the County have already held elections and raised their tax rate to 75c. I suggest that all schools which desire to apply for the State Aid next year immediately secure a petition for the 75c tax rate and have the election ordered as soon as possible. I will be glad to draw up a petition for any school desiring one.

Yours very truly,
J. F. CHADWICK.

THE BEST PROPOSITION EVER OFFERED

There is no longer any excuse for the renter not owning land or the small land owner not owning more land, and no excuse for the city salaried people not owning a farm, as we are going to make it possible for every one to own a home and secure some of the safest security on earth, which is the earth itself. It should be the desire of every man and every woman to own a home. Just think of the pleasure of being independent, and no one can really be independent unless they own a home so they will not have to move every few years.

We now have in Gaines County, Texas, 38,000 acres of land that we are going to sell very rapidly in 80-acre tracts or multiples thereof on the following basis: $200 cash on each 80-acre tract and $25 per month for 10 years or 120 months. $25 per month pays the principal, all interest, and all taxes for three years, and also gives insurance protection against death or total disability.

Should purchasers who buy land from us on this basis happen to die all the remaining payments will be cancelled, or should they become totally disabled, such as the loss of both arms, both lower limbs, one arm and one lower limb, both eyes or become paralyzed, the remaining payments will be cancelled; and if the purchaser should be sick as long as thirty days at any one time they will have 90 days of grace in which to make their payment, or payments as the case may be, that became due while the purchaser was sick. For instance, if two or three payments became due while the purchaser was sick, or whatever number of payments became due, the purchaser would be allowed 90 days of grace in which to pay these particular payments. However, we would require a certificate from a physician as to the exact length of time that the purchaser had been sick. On each and every payment the purchaser will be given 10 days to make payment. The purchaser will have the right to pay off the remaining payments at the end of any one month during the life of this contract and save all the unexpired interest and unexpired insurance protection.

Did you ever in your life hear of such a fair proposition to the purchaser or purchasers of real estate? The purchaser is absolutely protected because in the face of the note that he or she signs is plainly states that all payments will be cancelled in case of total disability or death, also the days of grace are shown as well as the fact that the purchaser has to pay at the end of each month in order to get a clear title to the property, and each purchaser gets a copy of the note, so he or she will at all times know just what has to be paid at the end of each month in order to get a clear release.

We will have a deed made to the land when there is as much as $350 paid, or $200 cash and six monthly payments of $25.00 each, but should a purchaser want a deed at once we will have same made provided the purchaser will pay as much as $350 cash with the same terms on the balance as stated above, and in that case there would be no payments to make for six months, at which time the regular monthly payments of $25 would start. If a purchaser should want to make weekly payments instead of monthly payments they may do so, but in order for the purchaser to secure the insurance protection they will have to be not to exceed 55 years of age and will have to stand a medical examination (at the expense of the Bishop Land Co.); but those who wish to buy land and who can not stand a medical examination may still do so though they will not receive the insurance protection and will be charged $2.50 per month less on their payments.

We will furnish an abstract with each 80-acre tract and we will not under any circumstances sell less than 80 acres, as every man or woman should own enough land to make them a good living and be able to lay up some money for old age. This land will be for sale in tracts of 80 acres or multiples up to several thousand acres, whatever amount the purchaser may want, at $25 per acre, 30 per cent cash when the deed is made on the following terms: 15 per cent cash when the sale is closed and 15 per cent payable November 1, 1924, the remainder in 10 equal payments commencing November 1, 1924, bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, notes payable on or before.

This land is located in the shallowest water belt on the Plains, where good water can be obtained at a depth of 20 to 60 feet, and at 40 to 60 feet an abundance of water for irrigation purposes, and it is one of the best fruit belts on the Plains and will stand the drought as good as the best, and there is one of the finest apple orchards to be found on the Plains containing 60 acres near this land, and it is one of the best cotton countries and will produce all kinds of crops, such as kafir, maize, higera, corn, sorghum, sudan grass, wheat, oats, rye, barley, field beans, peas, mellons, apples, plums, cherries, peaches, etc. This land is known on the Plains as "cat-law" land, which is a medium between the tight land and the very sandy land. It is a beautiful reddish and chocolate sandy loam, very fertile, elevation approximately 300 feet, and out of the boll weevil district. Two bales of cotton per year at the present price of cotton will pay all deferred payments on 80 acres of land; four bales will pay on 160 acres; six bales will pay on 240 acres and eight bales will pay on 320 acres. Just think, Mr. Renter, of being able to buy 80 acres of land for $200 cash and $25 per month, no interest, and no taxes for three years, and with insurance features to cover in case of death or total disability, and land on which you can make a good living by planting 30 acres in kafir, higera and sudan grass and other feed crops, feed two work horses and then have enough left over to feed a few hogs, chickens, a few dairy cattle and have land that you can safely make an average of at least 12 1-2 bales of cotton, when only two bales at the present price of cotton is necessary to make your payments for the year, or 12 monthly payments, which figure $300. The price of cotton should stay as high as at present for several years to come, as the boll weevil and other insect pests and high labor and high priced fertilizer has ruined East Texas and the Eastern cotton producing states, and the demand for cotton is greater than the supply. That is what forced the price of cotton so high, and it is bound to keep it high.

As a suggestion to the city salaried people, it would be a good thing for you to save your money and make a good speculation, a good investment, and receive a big income in the way of crop rent, as the land could be rented to farmers who locate on the adjoining tracts, or nearby, and who are not able to buy more than 80 acres, but who want to rent additional land, without even having to go to the expense of putting a house on same; but should it become necessary to put a house and water on the land it would be very inexpensive to improve it sufficiently to rent it. According to the writer's judgment, this land will easily pay during the next 10 years

$10 per acre crop rent on all land that is planted to cotton, and at least $6 per acre on all that is planted to grain crops and feedstuffs. This beats any savings bank on earth, and the insurance feature is as safe as any life insurance company's policy because in the face of the note it plainly states that the remaining payments will be cancelled in case of death or total disability and whoever should own the notes at the time of death or total disability of the purchaser would have to live up to the contract. Therefore, no one could criticize this method of selling land, as we are simply making it possible for the wage earner and the small farmer to buy land. There are a great many farmers' wives who make enough money selling chickens, eggs, milk and butter every month to pay for an 80-acre tract of land.

We will soon have good schools, churches, good roads and every other convenience that the old settled countries have and if you want to buy some of this land we would strongly recommend that you act, and act quickly, as the demand for this good, rich land in the shallowest water belt, one of the best farming countries on the Plains, on the best terms ever offered, will soon be sold, as there are plenty of buyers in each of the old countries in Texas who want a home and who can buy a home, that will buy this land on this basis and will buy it quickly.

Now, Mr. Renter, what excuse are you going to offer your wife and children for not buying them a home, after we have made it possible for you to buy them in a good country with a good climate, where you can get good water with practically no expense, and where you can put your land in cultivation with very little expense, as what little grubs are on the land can be grubbed up in a very short time, and it can be plowed with teams, and a very cheap house can be built to commence with, if necessary, and with the extra ten bales of cotton one can soon be able to build a nice home and buy more land, and be independent.

House Built for Better Homes In America Given to Girl Scouts; Mrs. Coolidge Lays Cornerstone

A little more than a century ago John Howard Payne, an American actor whose home was on Long Island, having been absent in England for a long time and thoroughly homesick, wrote the famous song, "Home, Sweet Home." A century after the song was written, the General Federation of Women's Clubs, as a contribution to Better Homes in America, had the Payne house duplicated in Washington, down to the smallest detail, and put up just south of the edifice of the United States Treasury, adjoining the White House grounds.

Recently the "Home, Sweet Home" house was turned over to the Girl Scouts of America, as their national "better home." The house was then moved around the spacious White House grounds to 18th Street and New York Avenue. The picture above shows Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, wife of the President, laying the cornerstone at the ceremonies which marked the formal presentation of the "Home, Sweet Home" house to the Girl Scouts, of which Mrs. Coolidge is honorary president and Mrs. Herbert Hoover president. The Better Homes in America movement demonstrated "better homes" in about five hundred communities during the first year of its educational campaign—1922. The following year about a thousand such demonstrations of "better homes" were held in cities and towns in every state in the Union. This year, entirely reorganized and free from commercialism, the movement will reach many hundreds of additional communities, and a special effort is being made to extend its benefits to rural sections of the country. The organization, which is under the active direction of Dr. James Ford, of the faculty of Harvard University, aims to enable every American family to get the most out of the home, believing that comfort, efficiency, beauty and economy are not incompatible. This educational work has the earnest endorsement of the President, of many members of his Cabinet, and of many departments and bureaus of the federal government, as well as national organizations of great strength and prominence.

URGES BANK ADS IN NEWSPAPERS

Banker Tells National Association They Are Essential Aids to Business Building.

PRESENTS PRACTICAL PLAN

Savings Bank Division of the American Bankers Association Offers Prepared Newspaper Advertising Service to Cover a Year's Campaign.

More newspaper advertising by banks as a business builder was strongly urged at the recent convention of the American Bankers Association by W. R. Morehouse of the organization's Savings Bank Division. He backed up his plea with definite action to stimulate advertising by savings banks by calling the attention of the members to a prepared newspaper advertising service developed by his division comprising copy to meet their requirements for a year's advertising schedule.

"It is my firm conviction that banks can use newspaper advertising with great success," Mr. Morehouse said. "Newspapers go into the homes—by their use as a medium the people of a whole community may be reached in a single day. Because a bank cannot directly trace a large volume of new business to newspaper advertising does not prove that the medium is ineffective as a business-builder."

"The fact that there are certain kinds of newspaper advertising which do not produce good results ought not to brand the medium as ineffective, any more than the fact that because a certain booklet or certain business building letter fails to pull would warrant you in branding all booklets and all letters as non-productive mediums."

How to Advertise

"Newspaper advertising must be attractive and easily read if it is to produce good results. If the subject presented is not to the point, is too deeply involved for the average mind to grasp readily, is too full of big and uncommon words, it is only natural that it will not be read. If bank advertising is to accomplish its purpose it must be very simple."

"Discuss only the subjects which will make it easy for the public to patronize your bank. Advertise your bank, its financial stability, its officers, directors and stockholders and you will build prestige and strengthen public confidence in your institution. Enumerate the various kinds of service your bank is prepared to render. It has been my experience that the public is on the lookout for information about banks, banking methods and the kinds of service rendered by banks. For quick results I am a firm believer in sticking to subjects which have a direct bearing on banks, banking methods and service, until the public has become better informed about banks and the wide variety of services rendered by them."

A New Plan

"If you have not been successful with newspaper advertising try this plan. Confine your advertising within the scope of banking and especially enumerate the various services which your bank is prepared to offer. Roll down every advertisement to one hundred words or less, preferably less. Use headings which arouse interest at a glance. For example, a head 'INTEREST FROM DATE' will inspire action on the part of persons with idle funds to deposit because interest starts from the time savings accounts are opened. A heading 'PROTECTION FOR YOUR VALUABLES' will inspire action on the part of persons in need of protection."

SEVERE STOMACH TROUBLE GONE SAYS MRS. RODGERS

DALLAS LADY SUFFERED FOR LONGTIME FOLLOWING SPELL OF FLU BUT TANLAC RESTORED HER HEALTH.

Mrs. J. G. Rogers, 1601 Royal St., Dallas, Texas, operator of one of the city's largest and most popular boarding houses, is another from whom Tanlac elicits and enthusiastic tribute.

"In 1918," Mrs. Rodgers said recently, "influenza left me in such a weak, exhausted condition that I was almost utterly broken down. My appetite left me, and I could scarcely eat a thing my stomach was so dreadfully disordered. Why, at times, I suffered so badly that I had to be wrapped in ice and I thought my heart was affected."

"Then we all, here at the boarding house, began taking Tanlac and the results were simply splendid. I was soon eating and digesting everything and feeling more like myself, and when I finished my third bottle I had been built up so wonderfully that I could attend to my boarding house with the greatest ease. Tanlac deserves all praise."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 Million bottles sold.

Cramping Spells

"FOR MORE THAN A YEAR I had been in a very bad condition," says Mrs. R. E. Kimbrell, of Route 1, Dorchester, Texas. "I suffered with cramping spells which gave me bad pains in my back and sides. Sometimes I would have to catch at something, I would get so suddenly dizzy. . . I had to quit doing my work. I tried many remedies, but none of them seemed to do me any good."

"In April I went up to Arkansas to visit my sister. . . She said to me, 'Willie, if you are going to take anything, take Cardui. It will really help you.' I came home and told my doctor what she had said and he said I could not take any better tonic, so my husband immediately got me a bottle and I began it. . . My case was a pretty tough one, I know, so I kept on faithfully. After the fourth bottle, I began to feel very much better, so much so that I was surprised at myself. I have taken six bottles now and I can truly say I feel like a different woman. . . I feel fine and I owe it all to Cardui, which I took faithfully."

FISH LAW.

The amended and Game Law is contained in Chapter 77 of the General Laws of the 38th Legislature, and reads as follows: Section 1. If any person shall offer for sale any bass, white perch, crappie channel or other catfish, caught, trapped or ensnared in the counties of Burnet, San Saba, Brown, McCulloch, Edwards, Coleman, Concho, Menard, Mason, Gillespie, Kimble, Sutton, Kinney, Uvalde, Real, Kerr, Camol, Val Verde, Bandera, Reeves, Ward, Loving, Pecos, Medina, Cherokee, Hunt, Runnels, Rains, Williamson, Houston, Zazalla, Dimmit, Wood, Milam, Travis, Lampasas, and Llano, State of Texas, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than five dollars nor more than fifty dollars.

Sec. 2. It shall be unlawful for any person to take or catch any fish in the fresh water rivers, creeks, lakes, bayous, pools, or lagoons in the counties above named, by any other means than by ordinary hook and line or trot-line or artificial bait, and it shall be unlawful for any person to place in the fresh water rivers, creeks, lakes bayous, pools or lagoons of the counties above named, any seine, or other device or trap for taking or catching fish; provided, however, that persons may use a minnow seine which is not more than twenty feet in length for the purpose of catching minnows for bait. Provided, that in seining for minnows for bait as herein permitted, all fish and minnows more than three inches in length shall be returned to the water at once while alive. No person shall use the minnow seine herein permitted for the purpose of taking any fish other than minnows for bait. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be fined in any sum of not less than five dollars ($5) nor more than one hundred dollars.

Sec. 3. It shall be unlawful for any person to take from the public fresh waters of the counties above mentioned more than thirty-five of such fish in any one day. Any person violating any of the provision of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be fined in any sum not less than five dollars ($5) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100). Each such fish taken in excess of the number herein allowed shall constitute a separate offense.

Sec. 3a. It shall be unlawful for any person, or persons, knowingly to place, throw, or deposit upon the banks or grounds adjacent to any of the public fresh waters, creeks, lakes, bayous, rivers pools, lagoons, or tanks in the counties above named any catfish, perch, crappie, white perch bass, trout, or other edible fish, and leave such fish to die without any intent upon the part of such persons either to eat such fish or use same for bait. Any person found guilty of the violations of any provision of this section shall be fined in any sum not to exceed twenty-five dollars ($25). Each fish so allowed to die shall constitute a separate offense.

FISHING TIME THOUGHTS.

The best time to go fishing is whenever you can—and stay as long as you can.

When fishing for trout, fish up stream if you can, so that any pebbles or mud that you may kick up will go from the fish, but if you are not expert with fly casting, fish down stream and walk very carefully.

If fly fishing, use as heavy enameled line as your rod will handle; if bait fishing, use a fine braided silk line.

Keep your tackle in good condition, your reel well oiled.

If a stream is posted, get permission to fish before you wet your line.

Don't get mad and quit because you don't at once get a rise. It is the angler who can fish from sun-rise to sun-down without getting a strike that succeeds in the long run.

Keep on fishing until you catch a fish—it's the thrill of a lifetime.

Remember that catching fish is but one of the joys of going fishing.

WHY BANKS?

LESSON VII

By J. H. PUELICHER, Chairman,

Committee on Public Education, American Bankers Association

Bank deposits are broadly divided into two kinds:

1. SAVINGS DEPOSITS
2. COMMERCIAL DEPOSITS.

J. H. Puelicher

SAVINGS DEPOSITS—deposits more or less permanent, in a savings bank or savings department of a bank, on which interest is paid, and which are withdrawn against the depositor's receipt; they in effect represent conservative investment of funds accumulated through personal thrift.

COMMERCIAL DEPOSITS—deposits in a business account at a bank from which money is withdrawn by check; they represent an essential facility for the conduct of business.

Many persons and all business houses have checking accounts in which to deposit the cash and checks which they receive and against which to draw their own checks to pay bills, wages and purchases. Thrifty people almost universally keep their savings in a savings account.

THE TIMID BORROWER

"I'd like to borrow $50 to buy a cow I saw yesterday," said a farmer to the cashier of a country bank.

The cashier hesitated. "No, I can't lend you $50 for a cow, but I'll let you have $100 or $125."

Astonishment was written all over the face of the man seeking funds. "Why, I can't afford to pay that amount for a cow. I'm rather hard up just now."

"If you can afford to buy a cow at all, you can afford to buy a good cow instead of a poor one," replied the cashier. Then he proceeded to explain just why a high-priced cow was cheaper than one costing only $50.

"The average cow, producing about 165 pounds of butterfat valued at 50 cents a pound, earns $32 as a year's gross income," he said. "Deducting the cost of feed leaves a profit of only $10 to $12, and does not take into account the labor involved, depreciation, and other overhead expenses. Now can you honestly afford to buy this kind of a cow? A $100 or $125 cow will produce 300 to 350 pounds of butterfat. You can figure the profits for yourself."

Convinced of the profitability of investing more money in a cow, the farmer left the bank with the funds in his hands. He started paying for the animal with his first milk check. One half of each milk check went to the bank to pay off the indebtedness, while the farmer retained the remainder for his expenses.—Banker Farmer

CONSIDERABLE COTTON REPANTING DONE.

Another blowing rain hit this section during the small hours of Tuesday morning registering seven-sixteenths of an inch of water. This was followed by beautiful sunshine, however, and it will not delay farm work a great while. From such statements as are heard on the streets and from business men who have made a close study of these things from year to year for many years, the conclusion is reached that about sixty per cent of the cotton crop was planted before the north of the past week and about thirty to forty and in some instances sixty per cent of that planted will have to be replanted. There is a good season in the ground and the ground is now getting warm and it is thought that cotton planted now, even late according to custom, will grow off better and the outlook for a crop is not discouraging if seasonable weather prevails during the crop maturing months.—Thorndale Champion.

IS YOUR WORK HARD?

Many Cameron Folks Have Found How to Make Work Easier.

What is so hard as a day's work with an aching back?

Or sharp stabs of pain at every sudden twist or turn?

There is no peace from that dull ache.

No rest from the soreness, lameness and weakness.

Many folks have found relief through Dean's Pills. They are a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys.

Cameron people recommend Dean's.

W. H. Ledbetter, horseshoer, E. First St., residence Fourteenth St., Cameron, says:

"Horseshoeing is hard on the back and kidneys, owing to the strain, holding a horse's foot. My back became weak and my kidneys caused annoyance by the too frequent passage of the secretions which were, at times, painful. It seems as if the muscles of my back were tied in a knot and when I stooped, it was mighty painful to straighten. Doan's Pills, however, relieved me quickly." 60c, at all dealers. FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.
